

Ballot Statement from Zorast Wadia, CFA

Dear Members:

It would be my honor to serve on the board of directors' nominations committee of the CFA Society of New York. I wish to collaborate with other passionate volunteers to help shape the future of our profession.

I have worked in the retirement consulting space as a pension and investment actuary for over 25 years. My employer for the past 22 years has been Milliman where I serve as a partner in the employee benefits discipline and advise corporate defined benefit plan sponsors. I have experience working with various colleagues within and outside my firm and am a results-driven professional. I've volunteered on education and examination committees in the past for both the Society of Actuaries and the CFA Institute.

I would like to see the CFA Society of New York grow its membership and continue to be a leading destination for risk management and investment professionals. This is possible by having a strong board of directors with deep experience and diverse perspectives and talents. I believe I would make for an effective nominations committee member given my enthusiasm, leadership experience and volunteering record. I ask for your vote and the opportunity to serve and give back to the profession that has rewarded me plentifully over my career.

Thank you
